à Deauville: a little taste of France in Zuidas

The French spa town of Deauville is synonymous with elegance, style, character and luxury. Made famous years ago as a favourite hangout of Hollywood stars, in the early twentieth century it attracted well-heeled Parisians who came to enjoy the scenery and relax. At à Deauville, restaurant manager Freddy Potters has recreated that special ambience for what's sure to become Zuidas' newest hotspot. A man with a passion, Freddy explains: 'Zuidas deserves a place that offers that same special atmosphere you taste in Deauville. A place that makes everyone feel welcome.'

REFINEMENT

Entering the Atrium, you immediately feel the mood lift. The lobby has a warm, modern look and the restaurant entices you to sit down for lunch or dinner. 'We took a good look at what was still missing in Zuidas', says Freddy. 'Sushi, pasta, sandwiches, snacks... there's plenty of that already. But what we didn't see was a place that does good bistro food like in Manhattan, Paris and London. Our dishes are prepared with the signature à Deauville touch, all presented with refinement.'

that same special atmosphere
you taste in Deauville'*

ROOM SERVICE

à Deauville is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner, and also offers a special 'room service'. Freddy explains, 'Everything on the menu can also be ordered for delivery to your door. That's especially convenient for meetings or when you're working late at the office. Naturally, all our dishes are served hot and fresh. We strive for perfection - everything has to be of the very best quality. That's also reflected in our interior and our standard of service.'

CLASSICS

Freshness, variety and quality - that's where à Deauville seeks to set itself apart. 'We've been able to attract a stellar chef whose style precisely fits the image and service that we envision', Freddy continues. 'His risotto is phenomenal and well worth a visit in itself! Also on the menu are a delicious Caesar salad, steak tartar, our club sandwich and American-style steak - all the classics. As well as à la carte dishes, à Deauville also has a counter that serves sandwiches and salads made to order for when you're in a rush. We always aim to please, and also have plenty of options if you'd like to organize a reception or meeting here.'

à Deauville is part of Compass Group Nederland and is located in The New Atrium. The New Atrium is currently undergoing renovations to give the offices the same modern look as the restaurant. But rest assured that you can enjoy lunch or dinner at à Deauville undisturbed!
